DETAILED ACTION

Continued Prosecution Application

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/26/2003 has been entered.

Claims 77-148 are pending with claims 77-79,87-92,130-132 and 140-145 withdrawn as being directed to nonelected species.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 72-76,80-86,93-130,133-139, and 146-148 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Curatolo et al. (US Pat. 5,605,889) in view of Handsfield et al., Urquhart (US Pat. 4,851,231) and Edgren (US Pat. 4,522,625) for the reasons of record set forth in the prior Office Action and the further reasons below.

Curatolo et al. is cited for the same reasons as the prior Office action and the same is incorporated herein. Additionally, a formulation is taught wherein the average percent azithromycin dissolved at 30 minutes was 76% (Column 11, Example 1).

Art Unit: 1616

Handsfield, Urquhart and Edgren are cited for the same reasons as the prior Office Action and the same are incorporated herein.

Examiner has duly considered Applicant's arguments but deems them unpersuasive for the same reasons set forth in the prior Office Action and the further reasons below.

Applicant argues that the amendment to the claims avoids the prior art. However, the prior art does teach formulations close to 70% and teaches the benefits of delaying release until the formulation reaches the intestine as opposed to the stomach which for the same reasons would motivate one to combine the prior art. "A known or obvious composition does not become patentable simply because it has been described as somewhat inferior to some other product for the same use." In re Gurley, 31 USPQ2d 1130, 1132 (Fed. Cir. 1994). The fact that Curatolo also teaches immediate release compositions does not make the claimed invention nonobvious. The claimed formulation is known or suggested by the prior art and the advantages of controlled release are known. Any adverse food effect can be easily avoided by simply taking the formulation on an empty stomach.
